

BUILD YOUR CUSTOM PAD

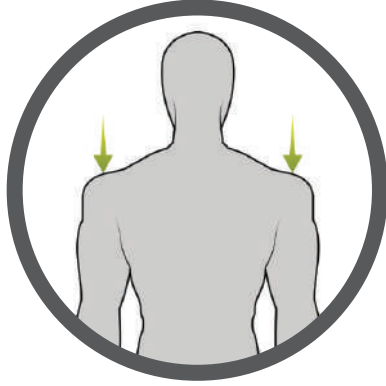

ACCESSORIES

STEP 1 Select Your Size

At XTECH we have the player stand at attention with his/her shoulders relaxed. Then take a cloth or pliable tape measure and place the zero end on the back outer edge of the Gleno-Humeral head (this is the outside edge of the ball joint) of one shoulder. Span the tape measure straight across the player's back to the outer edge of the opposite shoulder. Whatever your measurement is in inches will correlate to a shoulder pad size on the chart.

Example: If the player's shoulder measurement is 21," this dictates the player should wear an XL (20" - 21") pad. If the player has a slight to medium build, this size pad will fit. If the player has a muscular build, he may be better suited in a 2X. The reason is; if the apex of Trapezius Muscle is higher than normal, the bottom front edge of the shoulder pad may not cover the entire sternum.
